VANCOUVER FOLK SONG SOCIETY RETREAT 2022

Friday, Sept. 30th to Sunday, Oct. 2nd

Registration is open!

After two years of having to cancel the retreat, we are so happy to be able to announce that we are ready to accept your registrations for this year.

As mentioned in our previous promotion letter, it has been necessary to increase our fees this year in order to help cover the rise in costs of camp rental and food. Bursaries are still available; to apply, fill out the relevant section on the registration form. We also welcome donations towards the bursary fund.

While there are always uncertainties in these Covid times that can affect our numbers, we hope this retreat will give us an opportunity to build our community through shared music and conversation, and through welcoming newcomers as valued participants. We shall be taking whatever precautions may be required at the time of the retreat.

As you can see from the attached Sessions List, we have a fine line-up of sessions led by experienced and exciting session leaders. Once again, we are continuing to highlight certain sessions as "all ages welcome." These are marked FF for "Family Friendly" on the sessions list. Please help us reach out to all families, including those unfamiliar with the Folk, to let them know the Retreat is family-friendly and many of our sessions are appropriate for children as well as adults.

With regards to accommodation, please make it known on your registration form, or via email to the Registrar, if you wish to share a room/cabin with particular people. We shall do our best to accommodate you. Also, please note that if you pay the fee for a lower bunk and later agree to take an upper, the difference in cost will be refunded to you.

NOTE: It is very important that you indicate YES or NO to the Friday night meal on the Registration Form. If you arrive expecting a meal and you have not indicated YES, we cannot guarantee you a meal. While all meals at the retreat are prepared by camp personnel, snacks on Friday and Saturday evenings are provided by the Vancouver Folk Song Society for your enjoyment.

The Registration Form and the list of Retreat Sessions, in both Microsoft Word and PDF formats, are attached below and will also soon be available on our website, <https://vfss.ca>.
